

eMergent Benefit Solutions and Certifi Partner to Provide Benefits Administration Efficiencies and Cost-Savings

eMergent Benefit Solutions, Inc. ('EBS') announced a partnership with Certifi, a consultancy and audit servicing company, based out of Minneapolis, MN, to offer Middle Market Clients a full resource of audit and money-saving services

Camden, NJ (PRWEB) September 28, 2010 -- eMergent Benefit Solutions, Inc. ('EBS') announced a partnership with Certifi, a Minneapolis-based benefits technology consultancy, who provides third-party analysis and benefit data audits.

By partnering, EBS and Certifi provide clients with the best of all worlds – efficient movement of benefits data throughout their new online benefits administration system and continual analysis ensuring data accuracy. Companies are spending hundreds of thousands of dollars maintaining antiquated, resource intensive systems that transact and perpetuate faulty data. The end results are cumbersome, cost-intensive business processes that drain companies of valuable time and money.

“Clients continue to overspend in their administration of benefits,” said Gretchen Winterbottom, Managing Partner, eMergent Benefit Solutions. “Each month or pay cycle clients are continuing to try to work with arduous antiquated systems that drain them of needed capital and manpower. This antiquated way of doing business has become the routine in far too many small, mid-sized businesses. This shouldn’t be business as usual.”

According to Jay Belschner, Managing Partner of Certifi, “As health insurance companies scramble to make updates to their legacy benefits systems, they’re actually increasing complexity and the number of data hand-offs by adding new web portals to the front-end of these legacy eligibility and claims systems rather than replacing them. The net result increases the number of times information is transferred from one system to the next, heightening the likelihood of errors. These errors result in service disruption for members, inaccurate claims payments and hundreds of thousands of dollars in financial exposure to employers who sponsor these benefit plans every year.”

EBS' proprietary Web-enabled health and welfare benefits administration software, eLECT, incorporates several innovations and changes the paradigm of how administration services are provided resulting in a unique solution that leverages its technology, administration and consulting expertise while combining proven lean six sigma methodologies into proprietary Software as a Service (SaaS) solutions.

The partnership allows small and mid-sized clients the ability to rectify many of their benefit administration problems and in the process stem the financial leakage they may not be aware of.
